PROJECTS

Museum Central (ReactJS, Redux, Flask, AWS, SQLAlchemy, PostgresQL, Docker, Javascript, Python, HTML, CSS)   live | github
Museum Central is a website clone of Boutiques de Musées where users can explore museums and discover curated products.
- Implemented responsive and dynamic user interfaces with React, enhancing the user experience and ensuring optimal performance across various devices.
- Utilized Redux for state management, effectively organizing and managing the application's global state to maintain a consistent and efficient data flow.
- Integrated SQLite3 and PostgreSQL to optimize data storage and retrieval, enhancing overall application performance.
- Built RESTful APIs using Flask blueprints and decorators for improved scalability and developer-friendly use.

PixelChat (ReactJS, Redux, Flask, AWS, Websockets, SQLAlchemy, PostgresQL, Docker, Javascript, Python, HTML, CSS)   live | github
PixelChat is a website clone of Slack that allows users to create and join servers and channels that host fun conversations.
- Collaborated with 3 software engineers via efficient git and pull request workflow to mitigate potential merge conflicts.
- Implemented websockets with SocketIO to provide users with real-time CRUD updates, enhancing interactivity and user engagement.
- Integrated AWS S3 image upload and image deletion into Flask backend routes and React frontend routes to increase scalability, data integrity, and availability
- Designed relational database tables using SQLAlchemy models to ensure simplified data retrieval and maintain data integrity for end users.
